When a photographer sees something and photographs it, he is recording something from his unique point of view. He captures an image in a photograph, and other people who look at that photograph can see the world as he saw it. In a sense, photography enables people to see the world through other people's eyes.

No two people respond in the same way to a shared image. The memories, the emotions, the reactions to the image are unique to each individual. Photography as an art form attempts to direct these reactions, to manipulate the emotions of the audience through their perception of an image.

It is said that the eyes are the windows of the soul. One can twist this saying to mean that the soul looks through those windows and responds to what it sees. Horizons is a collection of images from 1985. Each person who opens this book will see the same photographs. But every individual will respond to them in a unique way.

— Henri Cartier-Bresson

"Photography is for the development of a plastic medium, based on the pleasure of observing and the ability to capture a decisive moment in a constant struggle with time."

Jacques-Henri Lartique

"Lartique's photographs are like his diaries, of which he wrote, 'It is personal and I have to be completely honest with myself.' As Avedon wrote, these pictures show no moment that was not a private one."

— Cecil Beaton

The Magic Image

Irving Penn

"Irving Penn's essential work is Spartan in its rigor, in its devotion to the sober elegance of clarity, in the high demands that it makes of us regarding poise, grace, costume, style, and the definition of our selves."

PAUL DYKSTRA

THE THIRD YEAR AT RANNEY, OVER! It's about time, me think I go crazy, Party at Wes's, Ian no cc cookies and beer! Hay dee, tudsh, tudsh, Yes, I can smoke with a mask, Mike passed out under the sink, SKI TRIP BABIES '84! hay, Bon, Bon don't call me snugle buns! love ya anyways. THE CLAW! SUB'S HERE, GET THE SWORD, WES, Hey Wes how young is your friend, 13? Hay B&D Gadgets, No sick jokes Dave! so my car's old, so what, look out here comes Trooper, Here comes Uno Blob, what are you eating now, Wes? I want to go sailing, Jeff has another car I hate push ups! Groin stretch, five dollar, cheap, cheap! Dick Dog, Oil wells in geometry, They call this slop pizza?

It's been interesting but fun, Thanks guys for a fun time! Thanks Mom and Dad, I love you both for everything! Love Ya!

It's been nice, It's been real, but it hasn't been real nice!

You send your child to the schoolmaster, but 'tis the school boys who educate him. You send him to the Latin class, but much of his tuition comes, on his way to school, from the shop windows.

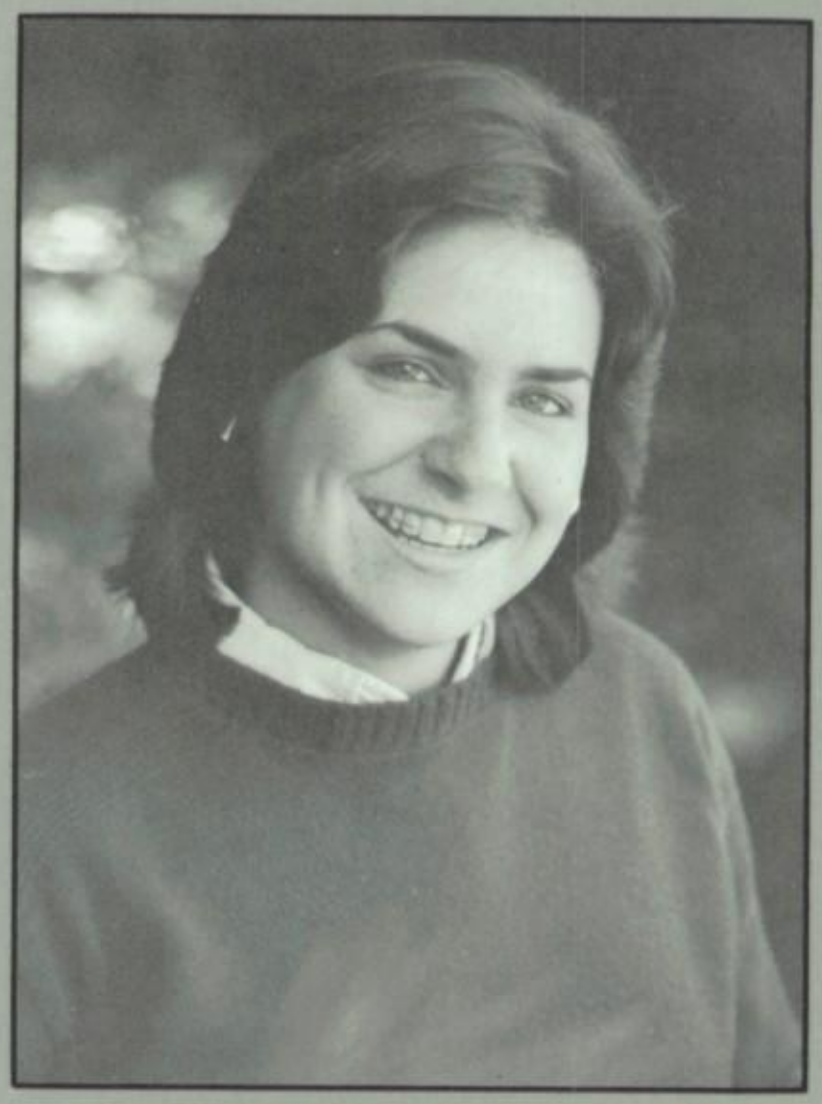
I am what I am
POPEYE

4 years at Ranney
Thanks to all my friends
To Bonnie W. and Denise L., you made all of my classes worth going to. Thanks to both of you.
All the great movies we saw, no more weird noises.
To Wes, Two bottles, Three fingers will never be forgotten.
All the great ski trips '83, '84, '85 Dave the door can't swim.
Thanks to all my teachers for helping me through the years.
All the great parties we had.
Hours in front of the computer with Fred.
Thanks Mom and Dad for all that you've done.
I LOVE YOU BOTH.

I'm not quiet, I'm thinking of the right answer.
Well, four long but short years have gone. I've finally reached my senior year! — the moment I thought would never arrive! the long bus rides; getting up early, midterms; finals; long hours of study which don't seem to pay; dreadful swim class; short weekends; long weeks; homework homework, homework!; tests all on the same day, S.A.T. course after S.A.T. course which hardly help; discovering music, becoming a music addict — MTV; putting up with certain people's stupidity; How did you get my locker combination? that annoying pointer!; walking to Art in the rain; Dr. Pike's French class; good teachers — Mrs. Kappel, Mrs. Tomlinson — who's never boring; Bonnie and Denise for making the past four years go by a little quicker; yes, Bonnie, we know the Who is #1; I don't know any John!!; Thanks to my brother and sister for always being there!; and special thanks to you, Mom & Dad for giving me this opportunity, everything I could ever ask for, and for caring so much. I love you and I hope to make you proud!!

LAURI EPSTEIN



Your friends all pass for life as just a market
But you have to finish everything you started
So I live my life tearing down the runway
Sure to get the hang of hanging in there someday.
THE WHO

My special friends:

If one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams, and endeavors to live the life which he has imagined, he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours.

Henry David Thoreau

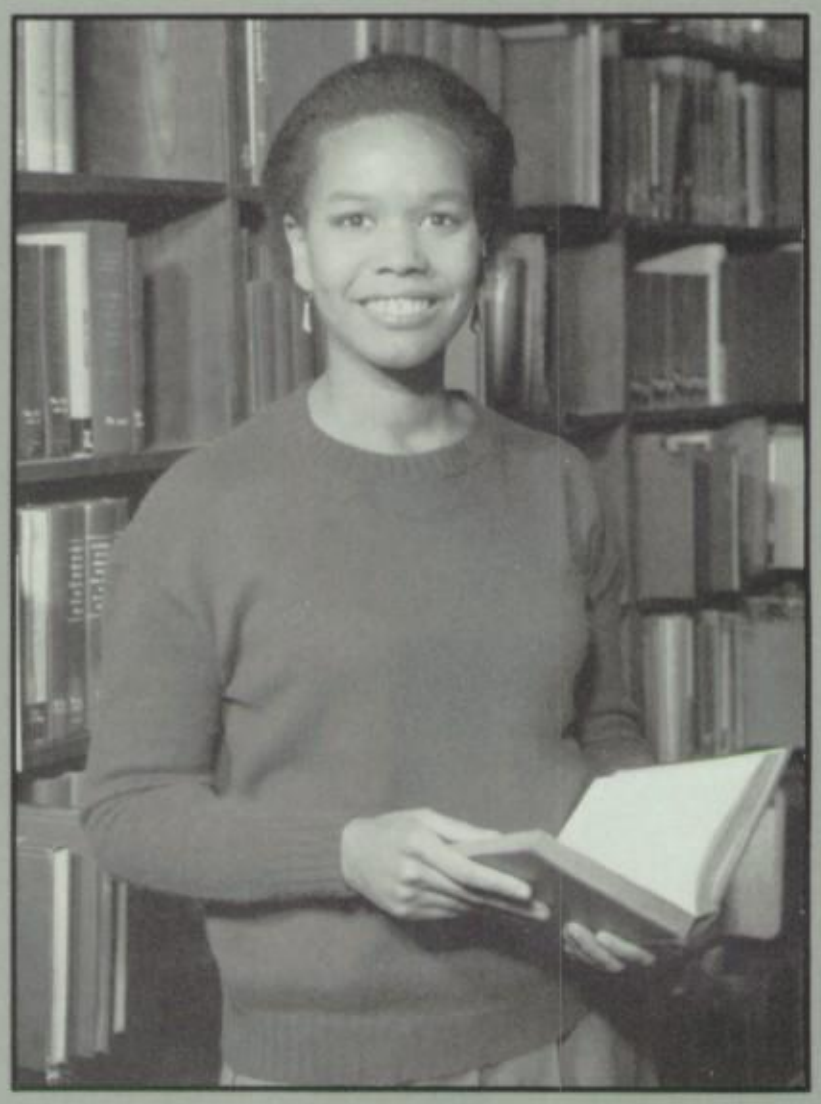
DAVID MAQUILING



SUSAN ELIZABETH TOMLINSON

I am alone here in my own mind.
There is no map
and there is no road.
It is one of a kind
just as yours is.
It's in a vapor. It's in a flap.
It makes jelly. It chews toads.
It's a dummy. It's a whiz.
Such conceit! Such maggoty thoughts.
Such an enormous con
just cracks me up.
My brown study will do me in
gushing out of me cold or hot.
Yet I'd risk my life
on that dilly dally buttercup called dreams. She of the origin, she of the primal crack, she of the boiling beginning, she of the riddle, she keeps me here, toiling and toiling.

— Anne Sexton

"Worth Repeating"

Perhaps the most valuable result of all education is the ability to make yourself do the thing you have to do, when it ought to be done, whether you like it or not; it is the first lesson that ought to be learned; and however early a man's training begins, it is probably the last lesson that he learns thoroughly.

The administration at Ranney has been extremely helpful to us all; its guidance and understanding have enabled us to achieve our goals, however difficult they may have been. Without their assistance and concern, our years at Ranney could not have been half so productive nor so memorable.

Although we may have been on the verge of insanity while attempting to comprehend the law of cosines, we should be grateful to those teachers who endowed us with the ability to think. We'll always remember that the logarithm of a number is the exponent to which the base must be raised in order to equal that number. (We were never quite sure what that exactly meant.) And even though our class was sometimes nothing but a sea of blank stares, we never forgot our S-I-G-N's. Here's to the Math Department; someday we will truly appreciate all you've done for us.

Barbara Tomlinson, Chairman

The history courses at Ranney seem to improve each year. Mrs. Tomlinson made many changes in the art history course, and is covering much more material so that it is possible for students to take the Advanced Placement examination at the end of the year. Let's hope to see the great scores that students have received for the other history courses.

When a student studies a foreign language at Ranney, he learns more than just how to speak the language. He learns about people: their culture, their history, and even about the geography of their country. This comprehensive study reflects the special quality of the teachers in the language department.

This year Ranney has emphasized the performing arts more than in previous years. Theater, with the help of Ms. Coe, has flourished. The Drama Club has had great success with its production of "Postcards" and "Impromptu." Mrs. Sims has worked hard with the chorus, who sang at the Huffman-Koos Festival of Trees during Christmastime. Ranney has given students the chance to study drama, music, dance, or visual art. Perhaps a hidden talent will be discovered and developed in the course of a creative arts study.

Although the physical education department had the misfortune of losing Coach Hanes to another school, its dedicated teachers were happy to see a marked increase in the number of students participating in after-school sports. Our librarians have always been ready to help us find outside readings for history, poems for literature, books for art history, and any kind of picture, article, or information we might need. And we mustn't forget that they have also been especially helpful in moving students who were ever so sweet yet a bit too "garrulous." Remember: "Only two to a table!"

HORIZONS 1985

When I first learned that I would have to write something at the end of this book, I panicked. I dreaded having to say thank you to everybody in the same exact words as every other Horizons editor in Ranney history. Nonetheless, I considered taking the easy way out and copying one of the old statements from the editor, inserting the names of the '85 staff in place of the old ones. Then I though I would find some great quote — relevant and inspiring. I spent quite a lot of time poring over books and poems, and then it occurred to me that I would never find a single quote that would touch everybody. (Besides there are probably only two people in the entire school who ever read the editor's statement.) Finally I arrived at a decision — I would choose a quote that touched me and hope that it would affect some, if only a few, of my fellow students. So here it is, my final word to you, and thanks for taking the time to read this.

> He began to comprehend those two children ahead of him, and he knew a sudden and strange awe, because he understood the power of their young blood, the power to fly strongly into the future and feel and hope again, even at that time when his bones must be laid in the earth.
